VOL. 12 NO. 88

WARREN, PENNSYLVANIA

Friday, October 14, 1960

10 Cents A Copy

MARINE AUXILIARY. Installation of the officers of the Marine Corp. League Auxiliary, Warren Detachment, took place Tuesday evening at the Marine Corp rooms at 800 Pennsylvania ave., W.

Installed were: seated (l. to r.), Barbara Harrison, judge advocate; Meredith Clark, sen. vice-president; Patricia Dietrich, president; Coral Hart, junior vice-president; and Arlene Mullen, treasurer.

Standing: Ruth Harrison, captain of the guard; Carol Olney, secretary; Nancy Dorotis, Jane Juliano, Bonnie Strandburg, trustees; and Margaret Blumquist, chaplain.

NEW TESTING SUPERVISOR. Daniel Johnson, who recently completed the short course in Dairy Herd Improvement Association Supervisor training at the Pennsylvania State University, has been employed under Warren County's production testing program.

A 1960 graduate of Eisenhower high school, Mr. Johnson was active in the Northern Area FFA. He served as both chaplain and president of the organization. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of R. D. 1, Akeley.

The new supervisor will work with Darrel Johnson, the country's senior supervisor, to improve the production and the efficiency of the county's largest agricultural enterprise.

COLUMNIST ERIC SEVAREID SIGNED BY THE OBSERVER

"I may occasionally annoy some readers, but I rarely bore anybody," claims Eric Sevareid.

And few will deny either ability to the sophisticated, amusing and mildly cynical news analyst who has been newspaper reporter, author, radio, TV commentator, and now syndicated columnist for the Observer.

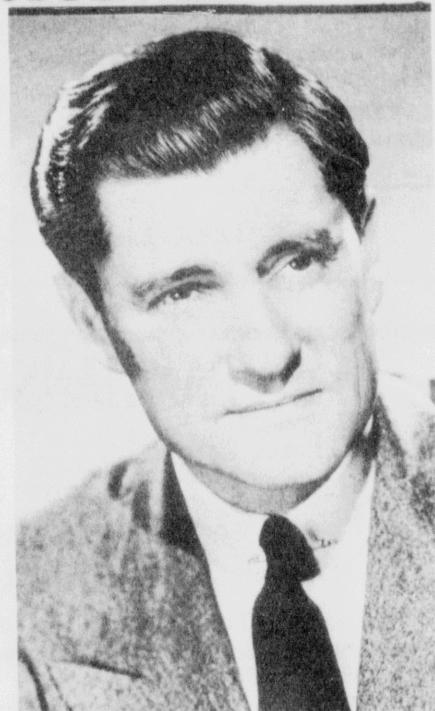

His column on international, national, economic and military affairs -- which he has been covering distinguished for about two dozen years -- will appear weekly.

Sevareid began as a copyboy on the Minneapolis Journal in 1931 before getting his A.B. degree at the University of Minnesota. Later he served as a reporter on the Journal, then on the Minneapolis Star.

In 1938 he expanded his horizons, joining the Paris Edition of the N. Y. Herald Tribune, first as a reporter, then as city editor. After a short trick as night editor of United Press in Paris, he joined the Columbia Broadcasting System in August of 1939 as a European correspondent.

His voice became familiar to listeners throughout the U. S. during the war. He was with the French Army and Air Force in France and Belgium, then broadcast news of the French capitulation from Tours and Bordeaux. His voice has since been heard from many parts of the world, including England (where he is currently), Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Mexico, Brazil. So effective were his news analyses that many were collected and published as a book, "In One Ear."

Eric Sevareid claims no "expertise except perhaps in the political and diplomatic areas," but he has gone from the small town of Velva, North Dakota, his birthplace, to the great capitals and news centers of the world, from a dirt farm to acquaintance with the world's great, from covering baby snatching and Minneapolis meetings to commenting on world war and world conferences.

MR. ERIC SEVAREID

Married and the father of twin teenagers, Sevareid has a fairly recent passion for hunting and fishing -- with too little time to indulge it." He is past president of the Radio Correspondents Association.

In addition to "In One Ear," he wrote the juvenile "Canoeing with the Cree," the bestselling "Not So Wild a Dream" and, more recently, "Small Sounds in the Night." He has written for such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post, Look, Reader's Digest, Harper's, The Reporter, The New Republic, This Week, American Legion Magazine, Boys' Life, St. Nicholas and Harper's Bazaar.

From a viewpoint shaped by contact with many of the news makers of this era and a life spent nearly half of it overseas, Eric Sevareid comments on the passing and crucial news with wit and bite.

"I'm deeply interested in the whole current development of western society," he observes, "in all its manifestations from its preoccupation with gadgets to its philosophical phase of mind."

"YOU GOTTA HAVE HEART", the pleasant song, one of many of the musical "Damn Yankees", is being presented here by some of the members of the giant cast of the play, to be staged by the Warren Players Club this week end. Curtain time Friday and Saturday evenings is 8:30 p.m. at the Women's Club.

LIMITED EDITION ...

This issue of the Observer is intentionally confined to less pages than usual because of the transition which is occurring in our press room. While our new press is being erected we must utilize the smaller machines in our shop. This requires much hand assembly and the actual printing is far slower than that of a newspaper press.

If you find a favorite columnist missing, he or she will be back. We hope to be using our new press next week, though it also may limit our activities until we are fully accustomed to its operation and have worked out the usual bugs.

NEWS IN BRIEF

COMMISSIONERS ACTION

Thursday morning the Warren County Board of Commissioners went on record in support of the name of the Kinzua Dam for the Allegheny River Reservoir project. However, the Commissioners also feel that the lake to be formed by the water obstruction should be called the Cornplanter Lake. Letters on their support of the two monickers will be sent to Rep. Leon H. Gavin and Senators Hugh Scott and Robert Clark.

The Commissioners also voted to purchase two hot water tanks to be installed in the Rouse Home. The tanks had to be purchased to meet state specifications.

WAGE SETTLEMENT

Employees of Pennsylvania Furnace and Ire Co., member of the United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America, met with company officials this week and confirmed a wage increase which goes into effect Saturday. According to union president, Delbert Anderson, it is an increment raise starting at 7-1/2 cents per hour to 12 cents per hour for 171 workers.

Negotiations resulted in the extension of the contract for 11 months, starting Oct. 15, 1961, with the same raise effective on that date to run until Sept. 15, 1962. This is a wage raise which averages 10.1 cents per hour this year and for the next year.

Plans Advance For Dam Ceremony

General chairman Robert Daye and his committee met Tuesday to discuss final plans for the ground breaking ceremony at the Kinzua Dam (Allegheny River Reservoir) site, scheduled for Saturday, October 22.

It was learned at the meeting that Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker will be the principal speaker at the ceremony which will start at 3 p.m. at the Brownell property near the extreme end of the Hemlock rd.

Among the other dignitaries who will be present for the ceremony and who will speak briefly are Senators Scott and Clark, Gov. Lawrence, and possibly Congressman Gavin.

Two shovels will be used for the ground breaking ceremony. One has been donated by the community of Kane and the other will be from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Historical Society. The top six dignitaries present, according to chairman Daye, will participate.

At 11 o'clock that Saturday morning a luncheon will be held at Beaty cafeteria for the visiting officials, who will give short talks. A limited number of tickets will be for sale to the public at a cost of $5, including their transportation to the train station after the lunch. The tickets will be available at the Chamber office soon.

The train, the last the Pennsylvania will make on the Kinzua Run, will depart here at 1:30. The 1,000 tickets for adults and children are going fast, so the public is urged to make their purchase now. The site can be reached by car, but one-way traffic will be maintained by the State Police the last three miles of the trip. There will also be concession stands in operation at the site.

The committee disclosed that the ceremony will be broadcasted over Radio Station WNAE.

Besides chairman Daye, working on the Chamber committee in charge are Tom Ganno, Neil Donovan, Myer Kornreich, Homer Haines, Charles McMillen. They will complete plans at a noon luncheon-meeting next Tuesday.

Physical Exams For Drivers

Under new state laws certain Pennsylvania drivers will be required to undergo physical examinations as a prerequisite to renewing their 1961-62 operator's licenses.

Those who will be required to take the physical examination will be selected on a strictly numerical basis. According to information secured from the Warren County Motor Club Tuesday, the following, which was secured from the Warren County Motor Club, is a list of the operator plate numbers from which the first group will be drawn:

1	-	5000
1000000	-	1052000
2000000	-	2060400
3000000	-	3048600
4000000	-	4038100
5000000	-	5042300
6000000	-	6038900
7000000	-	7042500
8000000	-	8036600
9000000	-	9026500
10000000	-	10028800
11000000	-	11019300
12000000	-	12025900

These drivers will receive, at the present address on record at the Department, a letter of explanation along with the Physical Examination Card, Form RTS-101, in green. This will be sent first class mail so that if the addressee has moved or is out-of-state, either on vacation or business, the Post Office Department will forward to the designated address.

Operators who are out-of-state during the renewal period, will be unable to comply with the physical re-examination procedure. In such cases, the operator should notify the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, by letter, of his temporary address and also include in this letter the operator plate number and 1960 operator license number.

When the Department receives such a letter of notification it will forward to the address designated a 1961-62 application for renewal which the Department will process, pending the applicant's return to Pennsylvania. This must be done promptly. In any event, the RTS-101 must be completed and on file before June 1, 1961.

The Department is making special arrangements to take care of those Pennsylvanians who will be out-of-state during the renewal period.

County Vital Statistics

Deaths

HAROLD R. KING

Funeral services for Harold R. King, whose obituary appeared in Wednesday's issue of the Observer, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30, in the Peterson Funeral Home, by the Rev. Howard Faulkner of the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Oakland Cemetery. Full military rites will be observed at the graveside.

HARRY A. SCHWEITZER

Harry Alfred Schweitzer, 78, of RD 1, Stoneham, died early Wednesday morning at his home after a long illness. Mr. Schweitzer was born in Sheffield, January 2, 1882. He owned and operated a grocery store in Stoneham for the past ten years, at which time he moved there from Endeavor.

Mr. Schweitzer was a 32nd degree Mason; a member of Olive Lodge No. 557, F. and A. M. of Tionesta; Zem Zem Temple of Erie, the Venango Lodge of Perfection in Oil City, and the Coudersport Consistory. He is survived by his wife, Lillian Fitzgerald Schweitzer, a son and two daughters: Harry Phillip Schweitzer, at home; Mrs. Dorothy Jean Stone of Odessa, Tex., and Mrs. Doris Jane Jankowski of Erie; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mary Sweetland of New Kensington, a brother, George Schweitzer of Lakeland, Florida.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, in the Peterson Funeral Home, by the Rev. J. Edward Lilja of St. John's Lutheran Church. Interment will be in Warren County Memorial Park at Starbrick.

EDGAR CHRISTIAN SVENSEN

Edgar Christian Svensen, 75, formerly of 118 Central ave., Warren, died Thursday morning at the home of his son, Carlyle Svensen in Blasdell, N. Y., where he has been living recently. Mr. Svensen had been in failing health since 1951. He was born in Sheffield on February 22, 1885, but had been a resident of Warren all of his life.

A musician by profession, Mr. Svensen had directed orchestras for many years in both the Library and Columbia Theatres. He also taught music from 1930 to 1944 in the Professional Building in Jamestown, N. Y. In later years he taught violin and flute in his own home.

Surviving are three sons, Harry E. C. Svensen, Marshall D. Svensen of Warren, and Carlyle, mentioned above; also 5 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild. He was preceded in death by his wife, Carrie, on September 17, 1949. He was a member of the old Danish Lutheran Church and of the Dads of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Friends are being received at the Templeton Funeral Home at the usual hours beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted there tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Marion W. McCoy, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Interment will be in Oakland Cemetery.

OBSERVATIONS

By Bob Walsh

LOOKING FOR A DAM

NAME IS NOT EASY

AN ALTERNATIVE

We believe the Warrenborough council acted too hastily Monday night when it immediately approved a resolution proposed by Burgess Langdon to the effect that our governing body thinks the new dam upstream should be called the Kinzua dam, simply because it has been so called by area people since the first year it was suggested by the army engineers, who, incidentally, call it the Allegheny River Reservoir.

The name and dam long will be with us (we hope), and we do not think that council should act so hastily without at least a month of study and without contacting their constituents. We also suggest that other portions of the county have a stake in this construction and will be equally affected by its completion. All should be considered.

Though we are not opposed to the use of the word "Kinzua" we can see some mighty strong arguments against it, and would approve any of several names that might for practical purposes be adopted. It is natural that many would suggest the use of Chief Cornplanter's name, and certainly they have a good point. He may not have been a great chief in the minds of some, but he did play an important role in the early years of this nation when we needed allies to win our fight for freedom.

Much has been made about the pronunciation of Kinzua by Leroy Schneck of the Warren radio station. This editor has chided

NATIONAL FOREST TIMBER FOR SALE

LOCATION AND AMOUNT: The sawlog contents of 768 trees marked for cutting on an area of about 140 acres within the Allegheny National Forest on Lots No. 90, 91, 94 and 95, Hamilton Township, McKean County, Pennsylvania. The volumes stated below are not guaranteed but are final for this sale.

Species	No. Trees	Volume
Black Cherry	310	61 M. bd. ft.
Sugar Maple	98	30 M. bd. ft.
White Ash	41	5 M. bd. ft.
Red Maple	78	14 M. bd. ft.
Beech	176	28 M. bd. ft.
Hemlock	10	5 M. bd. ft.
Birch	30	7 M. bd. ft.
Others	25	4 M. bd. ft.
Totals	768	154 M. bd. ft.

PRICE: The lowest acceptable bid that will be considered is $9107.00. This includes a cooperative deposit of $1387.50 for sale area betterment. In addition and as result of anticipated use the purchaser shall be required to contribute to the maintenance of Forest Service Roads used not to exceed $0.13 per M. bd. ft. per mile.

DEPOSITS: A money order, certified check, or bank draft for $100.00 payable to the FOREST SERVICE, USDA, must be deposited with each sealed bid. Deposits of unsuccessful bidders will be returned after the bid is awarded.

BIDS: A public auction will be held in the Small Court Room at the Warren County Court House, Warren, Pennsylvania, commencing at 2:00 P. M., EST, November 14, 1960, during which this chance will be offered for sale. Interested parties may qualify for participation in the oral bidding if they present sealed bids as called for during the course of the auction or have such sealed bids otherwise delivered to the Forest Supervisor's Office, Warren, Pennsylvania, by aforesaid time. Bidders who present sealed bids, as called for, at the auction must be present when the auction commences. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

GENERAL INFORMATION: Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber and conditions of sale should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor at Warren, Pennsylvania, or District Ranger, Sheffield, Pennsylvania. The timber will be shown November 1, 1960. Interested parties should meet at Sheffield Ranger Station, Sheffield, Pennsylvania, at 8:30 A. M. EST.

him about it in print and we certainly hope that listeners and readers have not taken our exchanges seriously. If those who make a living by their breathless comments can't have a bit of sport with each other our sense of humor in this field is indeed lost.

The pronunciation bit will evolve as do all words. Those who do not live nearby and go only by the print will find innumerable ways to say it. And custom eventually will develop an accepted sound.

We have heard it said that Cornplanter's name should be used because the grant given him by the government will be completely inundated. This is not true. In fact there is an effort now being made to move the Chief Cornplanter monument and other appropriate objects to the portion of the grant which will be left dry on the banks of the reservoir.

Because of this we will have a memorial to Cornplanter. It can be called the Cornplanter park, or memorial, and will serve practical purposes as well as sentimental. Such a public area can be used for access to the lake on the west bank of the water which in mostly private land.

AN ALTERNATIVE

Though we are not promoting any name and are willing to go along with one that is appropriate and meets the approval of all affected, we suggest that another name which might be apt is "Warren". We say this because it applies to the county, and is the name of the nearest community of any size. This gives it a geographical connection that can be helpful to those in all parts of the nation who will have reason for wishing to know where the dam is. Nearby examples are the Tionesta and Clarion dams, though in both cases they involve the names of the streams as well as nearby towns.

We suggest this for another reason. It takes the thinking away from two obvious names and perhaps will stir other ideas. Our real concern is that we are acting too quickly. Let us study this a bit, and move in concert as an area to have the name we prefer.

And then, after all our efforts, it probably will be known as the Allegheny dam. And we see nothing wrong with that, either.

This is not to say that we oppose the name "Kinzua" as many will immediately conclude and some will angrily state. It has been less than a week since we wrote that we believe it is the best. But we do not believe any newspaper, individual, or small group of individuals should name this dam. And we should not express our opinions on the subject until we have given it some serious study. Each idea may be a good one, but only one is the best. We must consider all of them before we make a choice.

It is not necessary to have this name determined when we break the ground. Many structures are named after their completion. That is an extreme example, but our point is that we do not need a name by October 22. And, in fact, we officially are not going to get one.

The Editor Notes . . .

WE STIR INTEREST

Last week we suggested that perhaps a contest to determine why people who leave their own communities for the purpose of shopping do not come to Warren might provide much constructive criticism. We received some mail, the most important aspect of which was that no one wanted his name published.

We have not started such a contest. We don't know that it would be a good idea. We are just asking.

It seems a better idea than one that would be based on what people like about Warren. It is much more important to learn our weaknesses so that we can correct them. What better place to learn than from those whose business we lose through those weaknesses?

We once ran a survey to learn what people liked and didn't like about our newspaper. We received a pile of cards all of which indicated what columns they liked and most of which told us how nice we were. Don't change, they advised. We like you!

This told us nothing except that we were pleasing our regular readers, and their renewal dollars tell us that quite convincingly. But we do want to improve and we are sure that Warren merchants want buyers to come to their stores rather than visit Jamestown, Titusville, Oil City, Corry, and Kane.

We cannot see ourselves as others see us, goes the platitude. But it is a very true one as every one of us honestly knows.

LETTERS TO ANOTHER EDITOR

We note that the daily has been receiving a series of letters commenting on the Warren high school athletic program. As far as we can see the trail taken by these commentators is well worn and all of it has been said before.

We wonder why parents don't get just as excited about the news that one of our schools was allowing its pupils to listen to the world series. Two hours per game, five games.....vital hours lost.

But getting back to sport, Warren coaches start with a great handicap. Every opponent in the area has a program that starts in the grades. The boys are learning to play football, basketball, and other sports under the direction of trained men as early as the fifth grade.

Meadville has seven coaches teaching sports to grade school boys. All of them have at least one.

This means a grade school farm system that provides boys with the fundamentals well drilled into them before they see high school. With that much help we then could turn to our coaching staff with critical eyes. Without such a program it is difficult to lay the blame on the staff.

The most important aspect of our athletic program can be found in the coaching staff. If it is a good staff and truly knows what it is doing, the boys are getting the best of training. Whether the teams lose or win is not as important as a definite conclusion that the boys are receiving the best of teaching from those in charge.

The next step is to do everything possible to win. And to best assure that we must give a fully qualified coaching staff material that is equal to our competitors.

WARREN COUNTY FARMERS

There are more farmers in Allegheny county than there are in Warren, 932 to 902. But our acreage is larger. We average 149 acres to a farm while they have 73.8. But their value is greater. Their farmers average $38,483 to our $12,968.

So say the census takers.

They also reveal that farmers in Warren county have increased their use of freezers in the past five years from 508 to 674, but they have reduced their telephones from 884 to 811.

The farms also have become fewer. In 1954 we had 1241 of them, 339 more than today. But the total acreage has dropped only from 163,019 to 134,193.

The fewer farms are using more tractors, 1426 today in contrast to 1265 five years ago. The horse population has dropped from 759 to 533.

We have 17,935 cattle and calves, 1239 pigs, 1966 sheep, and 44,500 chickens (a big drop from the 69,995 in 1954.)

The farmers spent a million and a half dollars for feed to keep their livestock and chickens alive. Despite the decrease in most of the farm animals the cost of feeding went up $348,000.

However, the value of the farms doubled and the receipts from milk and cream went up from $2 1/2 million to $3 1/3 million. Vegetable farmers sold $28,846 worth in 1959. It was only $15,517 in 1954.

And our farmers are younger than Pittsburghs. Ours average 51 years. Theirs are oldtimers of 55.

And if anyone would like to have more details about the Warren county farmers, even including the number who raise dry onions, give us a call. The census results are at our elbow and are yours for the dialing.

HOW EUROPE SEES US

London -- As the British Labor Party conference ended after voting for a Neutralized Britain, the London columnist, "Cassandra," wrote that "one of the uglier by-products was the continuous rumble of anti-Americanism."

When some speakers were short of a jibe, they were fairly certain of a growl of approval if they sneered at the United States as a grossly materialist society with a taste for total war."

One of the ablest British correspondents in the United States informs his readers that "The United States is just another country." An English novelist, popular in New York and Washington salons, exclaims at London dinner parties. "America is finished."

These are the straws in the European winds that repeatedly sting the cheeks of those Americans abroad who dwell deeply enough in European thought and society to feel the currents of change. Week after week the attitudes reflected by such remarks as these are projected in the press and broadcasting of Britain and France, from sociological studies to the snide pin-pricks of the quick-trip writers who incessantly portray America in terms of New York's juvenile thugs, Las Vegas stripteasers, race riots and Hollywood scandal.

There is nothing new in all this. What is new is that this saturation has finally produced a sea change in the minds of millions of Europeans, who no longer think of America as one with them, as an integral part of the Western mosaic of life, the chief protector of their liberty. They now think of America as a third party, almost as alien in spirit as Russia, almost as reckless a threat to their lives.

It is little wonder that Prime Minister Macmillan acts like an intermediary between East and West as often as he acts like ICA's partner -- indeed he wins more home applause in the former than in the latter role. It is little wonder that Charles de Gaulle can drive American bombers off French soil and threaten the American-dominated NATO command structure while experiencing only murmurs of specialized criticism on his home grounds.

And it is little wonder that Khrushchev does all in his power to make the world believe that his quarrel is with America, and America alone. It is in this sense that his barbaric propaganda onslaughts are serving his purpose, far more than is understood by those now pleased by his rebuffs at the United Nations. He is not concerned with the waves, but with the current. When high-minded Englishmen tell their people that "America is finished" or that "America is just another country," they mean that the American dream has died, that the vision and promise of the new world have withered away, that America is no longer the haven of the poor, the strong and simple defender of the oppressed abroad or even at home, that we have run our course and are no longer the last, best hope of man.

This is what they truly believe, and so one constantly buffeted by this current is astounded to hear Vice President Nixon proclaim that American prestige in the world "Has never stood so high." An affronted American can tell himself that "gross materialism" has taken full possession of nearly every European society, that the beginning and domestic policy often seems to be the preservation of its present affluence, that the French are profoundly materialistic in spirit, that the Germans are in full lust for the fleshpots of affluence, that every contemporary American curse from juvenile thuggery to sex magazines afflicts Europe, too, from Athens to Oslo.

One can tell himself all this, but it is not enough. An American must believe that new springs are oiling within his country, that strong voices are at hand to declare again the eternal meaning of the freest, best-hearted and most exciting human experience on this earth and to make the message convince those who were once convinced. He must believe with one rare and lonely British writer, Peregrine Worsthorne, that an American cycle, not of smug complacency but of incubation, is now ending and that history will see President Eisenhower "as the model broody hen, sitting patiently, vacantly, but nevertheless indispensably on the eggs which are now about to be hatched."

An American wants to be able to remind European critics that at the time Walpole said "Europe is finished! When Voltaire dies, we may say goodnight" -- that, at the time he said that, Europe was about to enter upon its greatest flowering in power, in the arts, in the humanitarian concerns of man to man.

THE DAY OF THE FINGER MAN

"There's going to be a lot of comedy on television this year," said Red Skelton drily. Then he added: "That's what they say." He sounded skeptical, as well he might. As the years roll on, the real comedians fall by the wayside -- Berle, Gleason, Caesar, Gobel, Burns, Silvers. Only Skelton rolls on and on.

"I think the guy with the finger is putting the comedian out of business," he observed. The guy with the finger is, of course, the man who runs the laugh machine. I told him that at a recent screening of a comedy show, the audience was laughing when the sound track was silent, and silent when the laugh machine was going great guns, indicating that the public and the man with the finger harbored different ideas on what was funny and what was not.

This is a very serious problem and one that's getting worse. With the situation comedies rolling off to the racket of the laugh machine, we're raising a whole lot of writers making private jokes that are getting laughs from the man with the finger and no one else. We're raising a whole breed of comedy actors who never get laughs from audiences even second hand, as in the movies.

In his day, Skelton has faced a lot of audiences. He started out in medicine shows and you don't hardly find that kind any more. "There were two kinds of pitchmen," he explained, "the high pitch man and the low pitch man who came back year after year. The low pitch man was a little more scrupulous. The high pitch man would come in town and promise a set of silverware with every bottle of medicine. He'd collect his dollar for the medicine and then blow town without giving the customers the silverware they'd been promised." Skelton was twelve years old when he was in this nefarious activity and almost got lynched a couple times. He was spared largely because he was considered a little young for lynching.

"Only two kinds of show business I haven't been in -- grand opera and carnivals. I've been in medicine shows, on showboats, in circuses, burlesque, endurance contests, legit, motion pictures, television, and vaudeville."

Lately, he's become an entrepreneur. He's bought the old Charles Chaplin Studios where he'll produce TV series with other people in them. "Harold Lloyd told me you'll never achieve any greatness until you produce and direct your own pictures." Scheduled are "Junior, the Mean Widdle Kid," which was one of Red's radio characters, "20,000 Years in Sing Sing," and for children "The Adventures of Marco Polo."

"I've studied clowns in Italy, France, and Spain, and I've discovered that the more basic you are -- the less artistic you are -- the more effective. People say Chaplin was a great pantomime artist. I say he was a great silent motion picture star. But he always needed a prop -- like the rolls he used in 'The Gold Rush' to do the little dance. A clown uses his body, his facial expressions, the rhythm of funny gestures which the audience laughs at because they see themselves doing it."

Another oldtimer who just passed through town is Ann Sothern, who is just about the last of the grand dames of Hollywood. They call her Miss MGM around her studio. "I'm the only mid-Victorian actress left. I never know any dirt or anything like that. I live in a kind of a mid-Victorian way." Translated that means, she trails an aura of splendor around with her that has gone rather severely and deplorably out of style in Hollywood.

Like Skelton she's been around. "The only thing I haven't done in show business is state fairs and, if I could ride a horse, I'd do that too. I started on the stage, went to the movies, came back to the stage, did nightclubs, and went to television. You know there are no comedy shows comparable to mine. I'm the only comedienne on the air now, I think. All the rest are family shows or Westerns or private eyes."

COME SEE THE SPECIAL-SIZE BUICKSPECIAL

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

Now get the room, ride, go and pride of the costliest cars plus the savings and ease of the small!

The best of two worlds meet in this new-size, jewel-size Buick Special. Easy to handle? Saving fuel on gas and upkeep? Yes—but, so much more! Here's how it came about:

NEW ALUMINUM V-8—gives the Special twice the power per pound of most compacts. More even than many full-size sixes and V-8s. All with amazing mileage—on regular gas at that!

ALUMINUM TRANSMISSION — Designed exclusively for a new-size car, the Special's Dual-Path Turbine Drive* is the peppiest automatic in any car. It weighs just 100 pounds, is simplest of all, and Buick sm-o-o-o-oth!

NEW ALL-DAY RIDE—Buick's big Comfort Zone gives more total head, hip and leg room than the compacts. A new Hide-Away drive-shaft flattens the floor. And the satin-smooth 4-coil Control Arm suspension is the same type as on full-size '61 Buicks. Together they make the Special the one new-size car for long hopping as well as quick shopping.

LIGHT-TOUCH HANDLING—A finger-touch and this beauty wheels like a polo pony. And big air-cooled brakes front and rear give you Buick stopping power to match the Special's go-power.

EASY TO BUY, TOO—Price? That's the best surprise of all! This proud Buick costs just a whisper above the compacts—and it's waiting for you at your dealer's now! *Optional at extra cost.

DEATH IN THE MORNING — Early on a misty June morning 156 years ago, the most famous duel in American history was fought on the cliffs of the Palisades at Weehawken, N.J., between former Secretary of the Treasury Alexander Hamilton and Vice President Aaron Burr. Events leading up to the duel, in which Hamilton was killed, provide the setting for "Not Without Honor," full-hour historical dramatization on the NBC-TV Network's "The Equitable's

TE LA DI O*"WHITE PAPER" SPECIALS FOR NBC

NBC is launching a series of six "White Paper" specials that will be full-hour nighttime public affairs programs examining developments that may threaten the future of the United States. Chet Huntley will be narrator for the series and for some of the programs and will also serve as on-the-scene reporter.

The first program in the series will be the "The U-2 Affair", a minute-by-minute chronology of Francis Gary Powers' ill-fated U-2 flight over the Soviet Union this spring, and hitherto undisclosed facts about this incident will be revealed. The program will also deal with the collapse of the summit talks and Powers' subsequent trial by a Soviet court. This will be televised on Tuesday, Nov. 29, 10-11 p.m.

The program staff is actively researching more than a dozen prospective programs, several of which are already in the preliminary stages of production. Listed under tentative titles, they include: "The P. R. Boys," a behind-the-scenes look at the practitioners of public relations; "Feather bedding," an examination of unproductive work practices in the American economy; "The Soviet Union From Within," a film report focusing on the many facets of Soviet military, political and economic potential; "Our Angry Neighbors," an examination of basic attitudes toward America held by our neighbors to the North and the South, with emphasis on Mexican and Canadian resentment; "Government by Publicity," or how well do the executive and legislative branches of the federal government discharge their responsibilities to keep the public informed, and what role does press agency play in coloring and jelling public opinion. Appearing on the first program in the series, "The U-2 Affair," will be Senators Fulbright, of Arkansas, and Gore of Tennessee, Democratic members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Powers, parents of the ill-fated pilot.

SPORTS ON TV

Nearly 1,000 hours of sport programming is scheduled by the three major networks for the current season at an estimated cost of $60-$62 million. This is a considerable increase over last year but demand for sports programming has grown and the networks have allocated from 300 to 350 hours each with 40% of the total time devoted to baseball, 22% to football, 18% to boxing and basketball combined, and the remaining 20% to miscellaneous sporting events.

NBC network estimated that 44.5 million people watched the first World Series game on TV, or more than half of the total who viewed the first Nixon-Kennedy debate aired on all three networks.

LOCAL POLITICS TO BE SPARKED BY TV

NBC plans to adopt the "Great Debate" technique to present candidates in major local political contests in the areas they serve. Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the Board of NBC, urges that current suspension of legal barriers to televise debate between candidates for national office be made permanent and extended to state and local contests.

NBC's New York stations plan a series of local debates on political issues between outstanding spokesmen who are not candidates. In the series titled "New York Debate" such notables are being sought for programs as Robert Kennedy, Leonard Hall, Governor Rockefeller, Governor Ribicoff, Averell Harriman and Thomas Dewey.

Sarnoff argues that suspension of Section 315 of the Communications Act, the so-called "equal time" law, will give freedom of expression to broadcasting as a medium of journalism. Any curb on freedom of broadcasting, says Mr. Sarnoff, is a curb on freedom of the press.

NBC GETS "EMMY" AWARDS CONTRACT

NBC has signed a new five-year contract with the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for the rights to the annual Emmy Awards telecast through 1965.

The Emmy Awards have been telecast every year on NBC since 1955 but the current contract would have extended only to 1962. The new agreement will enable the network to push its education projects, create a TB library and museum, establish scholarships and workshop programs which will benefit the quality of television.

ABOUT PROGRAMS

THE UBIQUITIOUS MR. CLINK, a half-hour series built around the diabolic adventures of the beguiling Simon Clink, is being prepared by the NBC network for the 1961 season.

PETER PAN is returning to television in a new two-hour production which will again star Mary Martin in the title role and Cyril Ritchard in his previous role as Capt. Hook. Many of the supporting actors in the original cast will return to the show. It will be telecast by NBC on Dec. 8 and, since it is being taped is expected to become an annual event.

THE ANDERSONVILLE TRIAL, a Broadway production earlier this year, may come to the television screen. CBS has taken an option on televising rights.

HEAVEN CAN WAIT is the title of a 90-minute program which DuPont Show of the Month will telecast Nov. 16 on CBS. The story is a comedy dealing with a professional boxer.

LITTLE MEN, Louisa May Alcott's classic, will be adapted for telecast on the Shirley Temple Show for Oct. 23. Playing the role of Jo March Bhaer will be Miss Temple with Fernando Lamas portraying her husband, Fritz Bhaer.

WONDERLAND ON ICE will have Efrem Zimbalist Jr. as host and Dorothy Collins as guest star when it is presented by NBC on Thursday, Nov. 17. The one-hour show is a skating extravaganza and will feature internationally-known skaters.

SPORT TIPS ON T.V.*SATURDAY

Nixon Must Run As A GOP Man

By Marquis Childs

CAMPAIGNING WITH NIXON — Right-wing leaders of his party have been telling Vice-President Nixon with varying degrees of sternness and disapprobation that his campaign was taking on the "me, too" sound of Thomas E. Dewey in Dewey's second unsuccessful try at the Presidency in 1948. One of those easy oversimplifications that politicians give off, it does Nixon less than justice.

In his technique and mannerisms the Vice-President bears no resemblance to the Dewey of '48. As he moved across the country the Governor of New York, in that year so unhappy for Republicans, was austere and even a little frosty. His oratorical style was polished and his political thunder, when he unleashed it, was of the mind and not the heart.

15 or 50 gallon sprayer attachment protects lawn and crops against insect damage. You may use it also for watering lawns, washing cars and windows, whitewashing, disinfecting and cleaning stables, chicken houses and sheds, applying liquid fertilizers, fire-protection and cleaning driveways.

For Demonstration Call RA3-5010 Or Visit Gravely Sales & Service 621 Jackson Ave., Ext.

The schedule he followed was civilized in its restraint. When he developed bursitis in his shoulder, which made it painful to push his way through the crowds and greet the local politicos who climbed aboard his train, it seemed an ailment with more than a little of the psychosomatic about it. Dewey was not one to suffer fools gladly or to glow with a friendly zeal when the Republican chairman of Podunk County told him he'd have to get going and make a louder noise if he expected to carry the county.

In contrast, Nixon is all warm folksiness. He is the friendly man from across the street who happens to have been lucky enough to have had the experience qualifying him, with Henry Cabot Lodge at his side, to lead the nation through the stormy times to come. The note of self-depreciation and modesty, whether real or false, is strong.

An important element in this is his wife, Pat, whom he mentions every time he speaks. Except for the first three days of the current tour, which she has missed, Mrs. Nixon has been just as heroic a campaigner as her husband. And when the total is added up it should show that no one (unless it is Senator Kennedy) has ever worked harder for the office of the Presidency.

The "Pat for First Lady" play is a definite innovation and here, too, there is a contrast with '48. This reporter does not recall that the first name of Mrs. Dewey, a lady of quiet reserve, was ever known to the cheering crowds. That was more the line of President Truman, who in his whistle-stopping endeavors brought his wife out onto the back platform with the friendly hail, "And now I want you to meet the boss."

But the differences in technique and manner and sheer elbow grease to one side, the fact is that Nixon faces the same dilemma that Dewey faced 12 years ago. Both men are shrewd realists who are not deluded by the oversimplifications of the Old Guard on their right.

Nixon understands, as did Dewey before him, that if he comes out slugging -- the favorite clarion call of the rightists -- he risks alienating independent and marginal Democrats. And, above all, he knows that he cannot win with the votes of the Republican minority alone. That is why in every speech he decries the party label and appeals to his listeners to vote for men of wisdom and experience.

In his farm speech at La Crosse, Wis., at the start of this tour he gave them the raw red meat of denunciation; the political cavalry charge that runs over facts and figures and roars furiously into the flank of the enemy. In its denunciatory extremes of ghost towns and farmers enslaved by a Federal bureaucracy it was reminiscent of Herbert Hoover when, in the extremis of his 1932 campaign at the depth of the depression, he predicted that grass would grow in the streets of American cities if Franklin Roosevelt were elected.

There are those who predict that this will be the tone of the rest of the Nixon campaign. Having begun with a purring slowness, he is now ready to charge into one redoubt after another and damn the consequences. This, so it is said, has been the Nixon strategy all along, the fire held until after the World Series when he could get and hold the national attention.

If this is the course he means to follow, then the Vice-President is launched on it with full knowledge of both the risks and the advantages. He will get the war cries of the right -- those who at the Chicago convention felt they would be happier with Senator Barry Goldwater as their candidate and who agree with the Wall Street Journal that what Nixon has been offering thus far is a "pale imitation" of what the Democrats are putting out.

But there is an even more important aspect of this contest and it can hardly have escaped the notice of Nixon. This is the first time a Republican, as a Republican, has run for President since 1948. General Eisenhower was embraced by a grateful Republican party in 1952. But clearly he appealed to the voters as a national hero and more and more his identification with the party has worn thin.

That is the challenge to Nixon. And it could hardly be a more demanding one, for on him turns the long future of his party.

Your Forest Ranger

By Larry Stotz

It has been many years since the trees in the Allegheny National Forest have flaunted such a brilliant array of colors as that which sightseers have been enjoying during the past two weeks. The sunny days, and proper night temperatures that have occurred have had much to do with the bright colors that have delighted so many visitors to the Forest. The brief but gaudy show is seldom fully appreciated, though, until it is over and grey November stalks like a gaunt wolf through the leafless forest.

The red and yellow leaves framed against a blue sky are a delight to the eye, but they can remind us too of the searing flames of a forest fire. As they flutter down like mortally wounded butterflies to mingle with the drying grasses and the brittle fronds of bracken ferns they are setting the stage for a conflagration.

The drought of autumn has dried up many of the underground springs that feed the streams that flow through the forest. Beneath the moldy litter that once mirrored the glory of other autumns the heavy clays and sandy loams feel dry and crumbly to the touch. There is no moisture here to delay the rapid curing of the new leaf fall. Now with the roof of the forest a shattered ruin the warm sun of Indian summer can bore down and suck up the last bit of moisture from the fallen leaves.

Beautiful even in death, a single dry leaf can release the radiant energy of sunlight trapped in the billions of other leaves that interlock on the forest floor. All that is needed to trigger this chain reaction and cause a forest fire is an abandoned campfire, a lighted cigarette, or the tiny flame of a single match.

On the Allegheny National Forest we welcome the sightseer, the camper, the picnicker, the fisherman and the hunter to our October woodlands. We think that it is one of the finest times of the year to be out of doors. Soon the mornings may be cold enough to tempt the bow hunter who takes to the field early in the morning to build a warming fire. All fires are prohibited on the Forest except at developed recreation areas, or when a campfire permit has been obtained from a district ranger and the permittee agrees to build his fire in a safe place and extinguish it thoroughly.

We find many tent camps scattered over the forest in isolated spots during hunting season. We do not wish to confine all tenting to our developed campgrounds but we do want to know where these isolated camps are located. For that reason we require a camping permit in advance of pitching a tent or setting up a trailer. The permit is free, and can be obtained from any one of the four district rangers on the Allegheny National Forest either by calling in person or writing. When corresponding please give the location desired and the inclusive dates for the permit. Address your request to District Ranger, U. S. Forest Service at any one of the following towns: Sheffield, Marienville, Ridgway or Bradford Pennsylvania.

A camping permit benefits all concerned. It gives us a chance to get acquainted with you because we know where you have

Full Slate For Grid Games This Week End

All county football teams will be in action this week end in the start of the second half of the current football campaign. Youngsville journeys to Duke Center for a game with Otto-Eldred tonight, and Saturday Warren will host Erie Academy. Sheffield will travel to Emporium, and Northern Area will cross the stateline for a contest against Panama.

The Youngsville Eagles should rebound from their stinging 39-13 loss to the Sheffield Wolverines last week end. Coach Dave Hilbert's eleven now has emerged triumphant in only one contest, while having gained one tie in four other outings.

Warren will have no easy touch with Erie Academy on Memorial field. The Blue and White have completed Section Two skirmishes and now begin a five-game independent slate, which includes : Academy, Ridgway, Kane, Dunkirk, and Jamestown. Academy's latest winning effort was a 13 - 0 victory over city rival Erie Prep. The locals, beset by numerous injuries, should be strong only in the starting backfield with Reynolds, Green, and Hartnett behind quarterback John Wooster, who is reported to be well recovered from his ankle ailment.

season without a loss. Coach Lou DeRubies is doing an excellent job with the Sheffield eleven, keeping their fighting spirit at a very high pitch for each game.

Northern Area, currently experiencing its difficulties, will meet a rather formidable foe in the Panama aggregation. The Knights were solidly dumped by a powerful Silver Creek team, 26 - 6, at Eisenhower last Saturday, pointing to the belief that the Creekers should walk through their Northwestern Conference adversaries without a defeat as NA was supposed to have been their leading rival.

Ambassadors To Give Genuine Exhibition

The clowning, amusing antics that will be presented by the Harlem Ambassadors in their appearance at the Beatty gym next Thursday evening will only be secondary to their great ability to play the game of basketball at its very best. The tall, speedy aggregation, which has spent years on the road promoting the court sport, will bring to Warren some of the top Negro talent in the country to battle the Warren All-Stars.

One member of the fabulous combination is the rangy Jim Robertson, brother of Oscar Robertson, The Big "O", who represented this country on the U.S. Olympic championship basketball team. All reports indicate that the younger Robertson, who played for Northwestern University, is as much a hardwood great as his famous brother.

Warren High Athletic Director Joseph Massa announced Thursday that the preliminary contest to the Ambassadors' game with the All-Stars will be played between the faculties of Youngsville high school and Beatty junior high. That tilt will commence at 7:15 p.m., but will be concluded before the 8:15 starting time of the main attraction.

FISH AND GAME CLUB TO MEET SUNDAY

The Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club of Youngsville will hold its monthly meeting this Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Youngsville Fire Hall. On the agenda is the planning of the distribution of the 200 remaining ring-neck pheasants throughout the area. The pheasants to be distributed are, for the most part, cock birds.

The Fish and Game club has already set 200 henbirds to field.

TO ACCOMPANY KING TO HOUGHTON LAKE

Eugene Decker, a photographer and free lance sports writer, of Emileton, has been designated as the reporter to accompany Marcel A. Tourdot, the Pennsylvania sports fishing king, to the World Tournament to be held in Michigan later this month. Decker, who took the place of Roger Latham, the Pittsburgh sports writer who was originally to accompany Tourdot, holds a masters degree in Wildlife.

The World Series of Sports Fishing is slated to commence Oct. 15 and will last until Oct. 24. Daily reports of the progress of the world tourney will be written by Decker.

BEATTY COMES FROM BEHIND TO WIN

Beatty junior high, led by its astute quarterback, Vinnie Pace, had to come up with two scores in the last quarter of play in its game with Washington junior high of Jamestown last evening to win, 20-18. Pace, the tall leader of the local junior high forces, passed for two touchdowns to end Chuckie Kurz, and ran 20-yards for another himself.

Washington had scored once in the opening frame and twice in the third period without an extra point before the Beatty eleven hit paydirt. Pace hit Kurz for a 50-yard play in the third period, and passed to Bob Arnold for the PAT, and hit Kurz in the final frame with a 40-yarder, before scoring the winning TD himself. Kurz plunged for the other point after.

Halfback Francis was the whole show for the homeowners as he scored all three Washington TDs on a pair of 25-yard scampers and a short plunge.

KEGLERS

ALLEY

AT RIVERSIDE LANES

J. McKenna paced the Sylvania Girls last evening with a 159-415 and M. McGuire smashed a 152.

C. Fitzgerald's 598 was out in front in the National Forge League, but high game honors were taken by M. Gnage's 227.

A 534 was knocked down by R. Harvey in the Penn Bell Gates, and his 205 singleton was the high of last evening in that circuit.

Tuesday night M. Stenberg led the Moonlighters with 457, while J. Zock rolled 212-581 in the K of C league. Johnny Snyder recorded 584 for high series, and Harry Clepper blasted a 247 for high game in Pennsylvania Avenue action.

A 539, registered by C. Sorensen, was tops on the Pittsburgh-Des Moines sheets.

MEN AT PENN

Pete Juliani fired a 247-667 in the Commercial loop last evening with Jim Lyle also registering a neat 229. In the Merchants' circuit, Joe Hughes' 546 was good for high series, and M. L. auffenberger's 223 was the high singleton.

***

IN SKIRTS

Nancy Rose tipped 459 in the Ladies Minor bowling Wednesday evening, and Jaye Pappalardo's 497 was high in the Major league. H. Pickard cracked 422 in Pegs.

CYC BOWLING

The Physical Committee of the Warren Catholic Youth Council announces the opening of CYC bowling, beginning this Sunday, Oct. 16, at the Riverside Lanes at 10 a.m. Every member is urged to take part in the fun, and teams will be composed later.

Members of the committee are Rich Occhizzi, Jim Brindis, Bob Suppa, Carol Piccirillo, Rita Harrison, Priscilla Zastawney, Barb Zaffino, Judy Coppola, and Barb Nelson. Advisors for the group are Alex and Joan Harrison.

The first committee meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 17, at 7 p.m. in the St. Joseph's school basement.

A LAUNCHING RAMP AND DOCK is currently being constructed along the waters of the Allegheny near Warren General Hospital by the Warren County Boat Club, whose vice-president, Gifford Clark, is pictured here checking the progress of the project. The dock is to be split-level, enabling the launching and docking of water crafts in both high and low stages of the river.

The boat club officials wish to stress that the facilities being provided by them will be available to the public.

Concrete for the preliminary work on the project has been donated by the Seneca Lumber Company.

THRONGS OF PERSONS responded in a gracious fashion to the Open House held by the Walker's Creamery Products Co. Wednesday evening. Traffic near Pennsylvania ave and Union st. was snarled from 6:30 p.m. until late in the evening as hundreds streamed into the plant to see the modern dairy machinery of Walker plant in operation.

Plant employees were on hand to assist in the tour of the building and President William R. Walker warmly greeted the many visitors.
